

Follow us on LinkedIn by scanning the QR code

Email: info@for-shaw.com

TRAINING

Full training is provided on all area's be it front or back of house. This can be customer service, upselling at the till, coffee training, menu training, better service from prep to table. Taking team members that need that little bit extra support in some areas where they are stronger in others. Developing skills with the team should that be menu development or time management within the kitchen in and out of service. This can be in all hospitality sectors be it take away, hotel, restaurant, hotel or contract. We can also give training and development on all makes and models of equipment within the industry.
